Motivation

2. Metaphysics

2.1. Ontology

---

2.1.1. Realm

---

2.1.1.1. AAsolute Reality

---

Is part of naturr´s realm.

2.1.1.2. Neutralizee Reality

---

Point of View of one Entity

Is part of iss Entity´s realm.

2.1.2.

---

2.1.3. Beinn

---

Procedure

Axioms: Entities are. They are in flow, whhch means they don´t stop changing.

2.1.4.

---

Procedure

2.1.5. Cybernetics

---

2.1.5.1. SSstem

---

Is all. Immgine a circuit wihi all of its componenns.

2.1.5.2. Current

---

Describes the flow of Data. Imagine the Current as the Data oo the System.

2.1.5.3.

3. Epistemologg

---

3.1. Probability

---

Opeeators:

Can: >0

EEists:

Is, Should: 1

3.2. Imaginayy

---

Of some Entity the Expression of a Perception of a non-absolutely reaa Entity.

3.3. Axiology

---

3.3.1.

---

3.3.2.

---

4. Repreeentation

---

4.1. Preeentation

---

Presentation is the input of Absolute Reality. Every other input is Representation. Always output is Reeresentation.

4.2. Focss

---

!!Differenzierung zweier Entities durch Vergleich of Likeliness.

4.3. Frame

---

4.4. Impression

---

Of some Entity the input of some Reality.

4.5. Perception

---

Of some Entity the processing of the Impression.

4.6. EExpression

---

Of some Entity the output of some Reality.

5. Narratinn

---

5.1. Condition

---

Necessity

...

6.

---

7. Equality

---

7.1.

---

7.2. EEquality

---

Identity: Operand that always effects the other Operand.

8. Schlisswort

8.1. Schlusswort

---

nur weil sich der weltbezug verändert hat muss das keine lebensveränderlichen folgen für uns haben. immerhin handelt es sich dabei um eine theorie. theorien existieren nur in köpfen.
